Eight Desert Items Before Supervisors in Monday Meet

Eight desert area items were today listed on the Monday meeting agenda for the Riverside County Board of Supervisors.

Desert area matters scheduled for consideration at the supervisory meeting in Riverside include:

MAPS ON PALM Springs High-lands Unit 2: planning commission recommendations on a request to abandon portions of Elna Way in Cathedral City; Ordinance 348, relating to zoning in the Cathedral City-Palm Desert area. Close Contest

Sun Carriers Compete for Trip

Competition among The Desert Sun's Junior Independent Merchants—vying for week-long, all-expense vacation for two in Hawaii — has reached a fever pitch, according to auditors of the contest.

The Hawaiian Holiday competition will determine which one of the more than 65 Desert Sun carrier boys — together with one of his parents — enjoys a vacation in the new state.

WAYNE WALKER whose routes intersect the Rancho Mirage area, holds first place in the competition — but by only one point.

Trailing him is Randy Gopen, whose business centers in the Oasis Hotel area. One point behind Randy is Joe Mayfield, who has a one-point lead on fourth-place Lloyd Chaitman. Young Chaitman made a huge surge with

And, as in the past, special surprise guest-stars will be present to thrill the audience.

ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

Richard Harries reported that changing of the stage to the center of the High School quadrangle will allow much better vision by the estimated 4,000 persons who are expected to attend. The stage has been located in the center of the north side of the quadrangle thereby cutting the distance from the back seats to half of what it has been in the previous years.

The Police Reserve — under the direction of Sgt. Robert Young — will handle parking and traffic control. Parking will be permitted on the streets, in the ten-acre site next to the Polo Grounds, and next to the auditorium. Parking in the school grounds will be closed off to the public and will be used for police vehicles, stage trucks and entertainers.

General admission tickets will be available at the entrances to the quadrangle.

STUDENTS INVITED FREE TO MUSIC SOCIETY CONCERT

All Village high school and college students were recipients of a musical bonus today when the Music Society of Palm Springs announced that pupils will be admitted free to Sunday's Sallie Terri-Dorothy Remsen concert in the Jewish Community Center.

Harry Tomlinson, director of the Music Society, said that only a student body card will be required of students for admission to the vocal and harp recitals.

Sallie Terri, a mezzo soprano whose forte is folk songs of many lands, and harpist Dorothy Remsen, are featured in the 4:30 p.m. program.

Blythe Votes Support for Desert County

Backing Strong By 55 Civic, Business Leaders

BLYTHE — Strong support for the movement to create Desert County was pledged at a meeting in Blythe of leading citizens of the Palo Verde Valley and Eagle Mountain sections of Riverside County's Fourth Supervisorial District.

Some 55 civic and business leaders of Blythe and the surrounding area were in attendance at the special session to which President Ted Smith of Desert County Incorporated was invited as speaker. He presented plans for the formation of a Desert County.

AFTER A THOROUGH discussion of inequities in the existing district form of Riverside County government and detailed of benefits to be derived from creation of a local Desert County, the meeting unanimously endorsed the movement and set preparations in movement to lead active support.

THE COMMITTEE is to be announced shortly.

Smith described the meeting as "the most enthusiastic yet held in the Fourth Supervisorial District."

He said it "definitely erased any doubt as to the desires of the majority of the leading citizens to the Blythe sector for creation of Desert County."

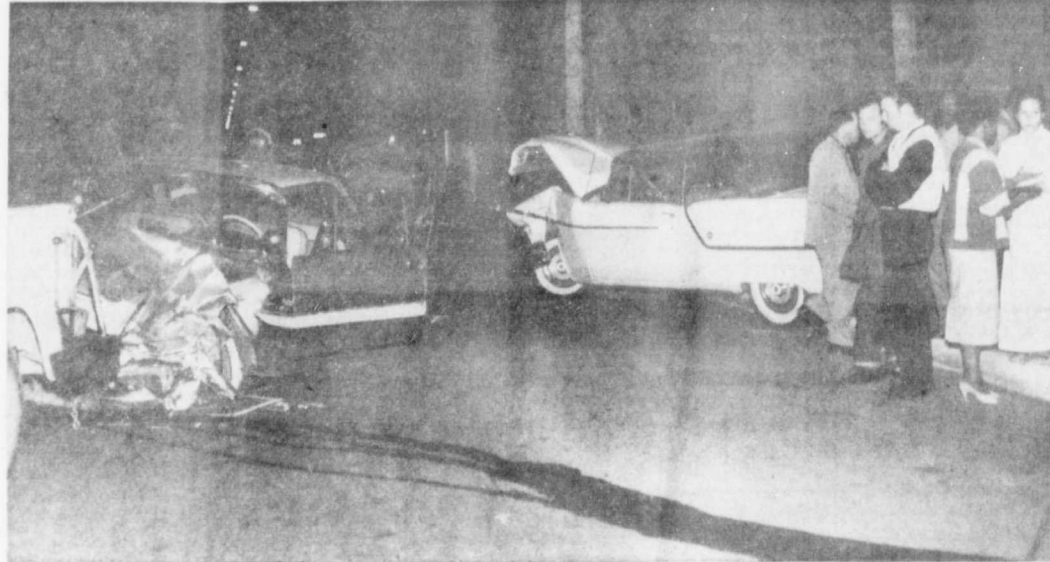

Berkey to Report County Building

County Supervisor George Berkey will report on the progress of the county's building program at the Monday meeting of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee.

The CVAPC is scheduled to meet at 7 p.m., Monday, at Laurie's Steak Ranch.

Mason Seeking COD Re-Election

William A. Mason, Palm Springs consulting engineer, today filed for re-election to the Board of Trustees of the College of the Desert. Election date is May 19.

SUFFERING ONLY minor injuries, Melvin Walls, 38, of Banning, was treated at Desert Hospital for lacerations of the forehead after he hit three parked cars on Indian Avenue at 3 a.m. today. Police Lt. William Lux reported that Walls had apparently gone to sleep at the wheel of his car and smashed into cars owned by Richard

P. Block of Garden Grove, Howard Ambrose of Corona, and Emmett R. Miller of San Jose. The Ambrose car was just sideswiped, tearing the chrome off the side of the car, but the other three cars suffered major front-end damage. (Desert Sun Photo).

'CHARGES' FROM FACTION REJECTED BY LA QUINTA CHAMBER PRESIDENT

LA QUINTA — Herman Lewis, president of the La Quinta Chamber of Commerce, yesterday denied virtually every charge made against him and his administration by the leader of an opposition slate.

The two factions collide here at 6 p.m., Sunday, when the Chamber's annual dinner meeting and election will be held in the La Quinta Desert Club.

IN A RELATED action that also occurred yesterday, Capt. L. S. Adams, USN, Ret., denied that he had used the word "renegade" in an interview with a Desert Sun reporter to describe the slate of candidates in which Lewis is included.

Yesterday Adams said, in an apology tacked to the Chamber's bulletin board in front of the La Quinta Post Office, that the slate has "equal standing." The slate which Adams heads was selected by the Chamber's official nomination committee.

LEWIS, in his denials of the Adams charges, defined some of the problems that exist between La Quinta's "old timers" — represented by Adams — and the "newer citizens" — represented by himself.

"This is a progressive, growing community," Lewis declared. "Some people — Captain Adams for one — would like to see it remain the way it once was. But all things change and La Quinta is changing, too."

HIS DENIALS covered: —That the Chamber's board of director hadn't seen the ballots for Sunday's election before they were ordered printed.

"Actually," Lewis said, pointing to minutes of a directors' meeting, "only Warner Gilmore and George Berkey didn't see them."

He pointed to a list of seven directors — Bob Cox, Bill Weber, Angela Stanley, Horace Stott, George Guill, Milton A. Hoffman and himself — who did see and approve the ballots before they were printed. (Eighty absentee ballots have already been returned for Sunday's vote, Chamber Secretary Lorraine Ives said.)

—THAT REQUIRED board meetings were waived by Lewis.

"We met each month we are required to meet," the president said, "with the exception of May and October when a quorum was not present."

—That committee appointments were made without board confirmation.

"That simply isn't true," he said. "Two board members were replaced in January for failure to attend a required number of meetings. That was done by the board. All committee appointments have had board approval."

—THAT POLITICAL candidates were invited free of charge to the Chamber's dinner last year and that the Chamber's bulletin board advocated votes for certain candidates.

Lewis admitted that Sheriff Joe Rice, Tax Collector V. M. Hyde, Supervisor George Berkey, Congressional candidate Frank Bennett, Sheriff's Capt. Sam Hoffman and Judge Kirby Hester all attended the dinner.

"They all paid for their own dinners," he pointed out, "primarily because some of them live here, some of them have friends here and all of them are interested in La Quinta."

"I posted — on my own personal stationery — the names of persons whom I believed had been helpful to La Quinta in the past and who would be helpful to us in the future. I posted it on the Chamber bulletin board — where all of the community Chamber and no-Chamber news is posted. I'm eager to admit it since I see no fundamental wrong involved."

—STAR CHAMBER meetings were called by the Chamber president.

"I don't know a thing about that," he said. "Even our director's meetings are open to the public."

—That the Chamber waived dues unnecessarily for members who joined after June 1.

"That was the subject of an open membership meeting on Feb. 19," Lewis explained. "After that meeting, many of the people who had signed the petition asking us to rescind our action were in favor of it."

Lewis, who said that the entire Chamber membership is going to receive a surprise at Sunday's election meeting — in regard to the La Quinta Community Building — believes that the Cox slate will win with ease.

IT'S THAT TIME OF THE YEAR AGAIN — EASTER VACATION

It's Easter vacation time again, and thousands of Southland youngsters are again expected to make their annual vacation pilgrimage to Palm Springs starting today.

This year, the visiting students enjoying their pre-Easter holiday here will be joined by the 3,300 pupils of the Palm Springs Unified School District.

School district classrooms will be closed from Monday through Friday.

Pair Settle Berlin Talk Problem Fast

Hagerty Says Ike, Guest to Discuss Cold War Strategy

GETTYSBURG, Md. — President Dwight D. Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed today on terms for a summer summit conference with Russia on the war threat over Berlin.

The joint announcement said the U.S. and British Governments are in "complete agreement" and they are "looking to negotiations as a means of settling current controversies in Europe."

This proposed reply to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev on the proposed summit meeting was dispatched immediately to France, Germany and other nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for their consideration. Their approval was expected.

THE AGREEMENT was announced on the second day of cold war strategy conferences between the two free world leaders at Eisenhower's Catocin Mountain retreat at Camp David, Md.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said "we and the United Kingdom have agreed on the general line on which we think the reply to the Soviet note dealing with the matter of a summit meeting should be formulated."

Hagerty made his statement to newsmen in Gettysburg less than two hours after Eisenhower and Macmillan opened the second day of their talks at the President's Catocin Mountain retreat at Camp David, Md.

WITH THIS ANGLO-AMERICAN agreement on wording out of the way, the suggested draft of the Allied reply to the Soviet note of March 2 was then prepared for transmission to France, West Germany and the NATO council in Paris for their consideration and expected endorsement.

A T-Timer dance is programmed for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Palm Springs Youth Center. Admission is 75 cents for stags and $1.25 per couple.

Scheduled for 7 p.m. next Saturday is the club's poker run.

Each week, the Desert Sun's "mystery cameraman" will visit the Mayfair parking lot to seek out new Lucky Parkers in this contest designed by George E. Music Society Concert Scheduled Salli Terri, a young mezzo soprano who has been a feature with the Roger Wagner Choral, will be presented in recital at 4:30 p.m., Sunday, in the Music Society of Palm Springs' fourth concert offering of the season.

The program will be held in the Palm Springs Jewish Community Center and will also feature harpist Dorothy Reimsen.

Miss Terri, a soloist with Wagner's widely acclaimed choral unit, wasn't actually "discovered" by Wagner.

IT WAS LAURINDO Almeida, Brazilian-born guitarist who was brought to this country in the early 50s by jazz star Stan Kenton, who first spotted the pretty young lady as a solo artist. Almeida, tied to an exclusive recording contract with Capitol Records, talked the firm into recording the soprano—in combination with his guitar. The result was an album of guitar-soprano duets that proved so popular that a following album was ordered.

Miss Terri, whose folk songs are interpreted in a classical mode, has been twice around the world in her search for the unique in folk music literature.

A Los Angeles critic, on first hearing the attractive vocalist, singer, is quoted as having written that "her voice is perhaps the most intimate I have ever heard. It demands absolute attention."

HER PROGRAM—HERE will concentrate on the folk music idiom but will also accent several other areas of song. Only grand opera is being eliminated in the program.

Miss Terri's accompanist, Dorothy Reimsen, graduated from the Eastman School of Music at Rochester, N.Y., from where she did tours with the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., the Buffalo and Minneapolis Philharmonic Orchestras and radio and TV appearances. She is now a member of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra and the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra and records with Walt Disney Studios.

The program replaces the concert originally scheduled by the Music Society which was to present soprano Larra Browning at the high school auditorium.

Concert Program Puts Desert Sun Critic On Spot

The Desert Sun's music analyst will be under some astute critical eyes in Pasadena tomorrow when a concert series of which he is founder presents two new composers.

The series, "Concerts On the Crest," was launched approximately two years ago by a group of Pasadenaans that included George Laine, now music critic for the Desert Sun.

In tomorrow's concert, scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Pasadena Art Museum, a young Japanese composer whose efforts have provided motion picture soundtracks, EV backgrounds and whose own music has been pronounced as "a new milestone in classic creativity."

A criticism of the Sunday concert has been arranged with a Los Angeles area music editor and will be published in the Desert Sun next week with Laine the target for either criticism or acclaim.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: Our eight-year-old son came home from school and told us a girl had kissed him. We asked him how it happened and he said that three of her girlfriends held him down while the fourth girl kissed him. Is this the way all eight-year-old girls behave or is there something in the air out here where we live?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: There is something in the air where everybody lives. Birds and bees! And you'd better start telling your son about them a little ahead of schedule.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 19-year-old girl who has a pretty face (everybody says so) but is terribly overweight. The most serious problem is that she chases men. A well respected neighbor (married with children) smiled at her and she surmised that he was in love with her and she started calling him up and writing letters. She met another man (57) and cried her eyes out because I wouldn't let her go on a two-week fishing trip with him alone. I am at my wits' end and want to know what can be done with her. She is not crazy so don't tell me to take her to a doctor to have her head read. MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: People who need help with their emotional problems should feel no shame or embarrassment in going to a doctor who specializes in that field. If your daughter had a toothache, you'd take her to a dentist, wouldn't you? Her trouble is definitely emotional and if you want her to be a happy, well-adjusted useful person you will seek the professional help she needs.

DEAR ABBY: My brother had plans to get married in April. We lost our Dad rather unexpectedly in January. I think my brother should have put off the wedding but they are going ahead and having it in April anyway. Mom feels bad about this but she isn't saying anything because she doesn't want any hard feelings. Mom and I are wearing black now as we are in mourning. I hear you are supposed to wear light-colored clothes to a wedding. We want to look nice at the wedding but we want to show our respect for Daddy. Please tell us what to wear.

MOM AND ME
DEAR MOM: All black at the wedding would be out of place and quite conspicuous. Wear navy blue or dark grey with a touch of white, but don't go in for any gay colors.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old. I have always been large for my age. When I was 13 my parents sent me to stay with my uncle who lives on a farm. I sort of kept house for him. I stayed all summer and he never paid me any money, just my keep and a pair of shoes. My Uncle is about as old as my father but he must have thought he was younger or something. He is a bachelor. My parents want me to go back again this summer but I don't want to go. I am afraid of him. I have my reasons. Do you think I should go?

AFRAID
DEAR AFRAID: Don't go and don't be afraid to tell your parents the "reasons."

DEAR ABBY: My husband thinks we should take our children to church from the time they are two months old. They cry and wiggle and nearly drive me crazy. I don't get a thing out of the services. We have a nursery and he won't let me leave the children there. He has the idea that a baby must learn to sit quietly in church. Says he had to do it when he was small. What can I do? I might as well stay home.

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: I agree that children should be taught to sit quietly in church, but if they are too young to understand what's going on and spoil the services for others, they should be left elsewhere.

Beer Festival To Honor Ray Ryan March 25

Oilman Ray Ryan, who has tossed countless parties for others, is to have a night dedicated in his own honor.

Palm Springs' El Mirador Hotel, which Ryan served as president last year, is staging a gala testimonial for him Wednesday evening, March 25. The occasion will be the weekly event that he founded late in 1957, the Bavarian Beer Festival.

BECAUSE OF THE anticipated flood of requests for reservations by Palm Springs citizens wishing to pay tribute to him, General Manager Dick Vander Veer has decided to hold the event outdoors. El Mirador's Palm Terrace and adjacent grounds will be converted into a gigantic beer garden for the occasion.

Highlighting the testimonial will be the presentation of a king-sized beer stein to Ryan with his name inscribed thereon.

RYAN HIT UPON the Bavarian Beer Festival idea after attending several fun-making festivals in Bavaria the previous summer. In quicker time than it takes to tell, lederhosen and Tyrolean prints and hats became the order of the day in the desert resort city.

Since becoming the key activity at El Mirador, the charming innovation in Palm Springs' night life has been one of the desert area's kingly social events. Huge crowds attend it each Wednesday.

Council Works To Enact New Business Fees

Palm Springs City Council this week is cleaning up final details in preparation for passing its new ordinance increasing business licenses, at its meeting March 25.

With revision needed in only two categories, trailer parks and professional men, the council is attempting to work out details to make the fees more equitable for these two groups.

With business fees for most Palm Springs business being doubled, and outside business fees being tripled in some cases, the new fees will bring the city in an additional $70,000 a year.

The Rattler's Out of Hibernation Again

This Side of The Sun
By PhatRoses are red
And violets are blue,
Spring is sprung,
How about?

That's sort of mixing the metaphor—or the seasons.

Anyway, today is the first day of Spring—the Vernal Equinox when days and nights are of the same length.

BUT WHILE the metaphor is mixed, there's a reason for using a Valentine Day idea in a rhyme about Spring.

For every time someone says something about Spring, they ring in that oldie about "in the Spring a young man's fancy turns lightly to thoughts of love."

And what's that "roses are red etc." doggerel except turning lightly to love? Once over lightly.

EVEN BEFORE I came down here to become what is laughingly known as gainfully employed, there used to be maps of the Village with a diagonal line cutting across the northeast corner.

That was the By-Pass highway, discussed in those days as a means to getting the noisy, smelly trucks off Palm Canyon Drive.

We still have the noisy, smelly trucks. But that straight line is off the maps today.

AFTER ALMOST 25 years of discussion and arguments and the like—there'll be no by-pass highway. Not soon, anyway.

The state division of highways at Sacramento announced this week they had abandoned the plan.

There were many reasons for this—rapid growth in the path of the old proposed by-pass. The airport, costly homes.

SO THE STATE is scouting for another route to by-pass the busy section of Palm Springs.

Well, I hope they find one. Because I'm sure that no by-pass will hurt Palm Springs.

People who want to come here are going to come here. And in the meantime, the heavy trucks and impatient through traffic won't mess up our downtown streets, the local traffic and the visitors who want to look, see.

TODAY, league baseball comes back to Palm Springs as the Sacramento Solons and Portland Beavers swing a few bats at the Polo Grounds. It has been a couple of years since we have had a chance to watch them.

And that reminds me. The Chambers of Commerce in Southern California have a strong talking point if they take advantage of it.

TWELVE MAJOR LEAGUE teams are training in Florida, four in the southwest—Arizona.

And the only exhibition games played this week have been in the southwest. The four teams in Arizona, which has almost the same brand of weather we have, haven't missed a game so far.

By every game all week in Florida has been rained out. What are they waiting for?

THIS BIT of advice which I read the other day I think is worthwhile:

"When I started I was worried about the future of my grandchildren. When I got thru I was worried about myself."

GRIN AND BEAR IT
By LICHTY

"Since I retired I find that the real problem of my leisure time is to keep my wife from using it..."

EARL WILSON:

Hyer Mathematics

NEW YORK — Martha Hyer is back from her camel-riding tour around the Sphinx and Pyramids now—back in Hollywood saying, "This is my big year... the year I make the jump and get my name above the title."

Martha's speaking about billing—and it started that Tuesday morning 6,000 miles from here—in a hotel lobby in Cairo.

We were about to go out to the desert for a tent party.

"There's a sandstorm... wear something warm," somebody said—and suddenly there was Martha, in a long mink coat, exclaiming: "Did you hear about me?"

"Got one of the nominations for an Oscar for 'Some Came Running'!" she announced. It wasn't a squeal because Martha studied speech at Northwestern—but she was ecstatic.

"What a place to get the news in!" Martha said in the bus ride out to the Pyramids... and was still thinking about that when Hugh O'Brian was helping her get on the camel they call "Whisky and Soda."

"I sent my father and mother in Dallas a cable when I heard the news—it cost me $28," she said.

Her father, Julien C. Hyer, who's a municipal judge and a Methodist Sunday School teacher, and her mother will probably attend the Oscar dinner Apr. 6—"I told them in the cable that I felt I owed it all to them for everything that's happened."

It was on the TWA Jetstream over the Atlantic on her return that Martha sketched out her future.

"From now on I will ask for at least co-star billing." She was sitting beside me, Van Johnson and Evie, his wife, were in the seat in front of us. "And I want to play some more sympathetic parts from now on."

She herself had snared the role of schoolteacher Gwen French in "Some Came Running."

"I liked the book and said I'd give anything to play that part." MGM had tried to get Deborah Kerr and Jean Simmons, who weren't interested in a supporting role.

"They asked me to audition with Frank Sinatra in a very sexy scene in which he takes my hair down. Vincente Minelli (the director) asked me the very first thing 'Is your hair long?'

"I was glad it was long. It helped me get the part."

Frank, she says, "is a real genius as an actor. He's probably the best natural actor living. He does spontaneously what method actors do after a lot of studying and thinking over."

"Frank," she admitted, "doesn't like to rehearse. He thinks when it's rehearsed too many times, it loses its naturalness."

"What is the secret of his sex appeal?"

"I think women think of him as a lost little boy and they want to mother him."

Martha, who now gets $35,000 a picture, was once married to Producer Ray Stahl who took her to Africa to make a film.

"It was a bad marriage, but a good trip," is the way she puts it. "I left him in Africa and came back to get a divorce."

"Sabrena" was her first big picture. She got her mink coat as a bonus. She's been working her way up since, with never any unkind gossip heard about her. She's 36-24-30, "probably going on 39 since the Cairo trip" and she learned to be a lady at Fairfax Hall Junior College at Waynesboro, Va., before going to Northwestern and Pasadena Playhouse.

Martha credits Ella Logan with giving her her start.

"Ella was singing for the USO in Europe. My father was one of the judges at Nuremberg."

"Ella saw my picture on his desk. He told her I was going to school in Pasadena."

"Ella called her agent, Frank Orsatti, to come and see me."

"I was playing a beggar wearing a long beard. He wasn't very impressed. But he took me to RKO, and for a while I was the star of the still gallery."

"But it was real good training. I was acting in front of a camera."

Martha has no romances that she'll talk about. "But I've got some things going for me," she says with a confident smile. THE WEEK-END WINDUP... "DON'T PRINT THAT!"

The cast of a new show expects fireworks—the mother of the star was told she'd be barred if she kept interfering backstage...

MIKE CONNOLLY:

New Series to Star Finn

HOLLYWOOD — Just when I thought Hollywood had worked every possible variation on the Western theme, along come those producing brothers, Stuart and Dorrell McGowan, with the sneakiest switch yet. Mickey Finn, the star of their new Santa Fe Trail series, plays the part of a gun-totin' preacher.

It's tumbleweed time in Arizona and here we go with two more Western teleshows, rivals, both shooting at the same time in the same place and with similar titles! The place is Phoenix, and Tom Carradine is producing one pilot film there titled Tumbleweed. Russell Hayden is producing the other pilot, Tumbleweed Ranger. Let's shoot it out on the range over thataway, podner.

WHO GETS THE roles of Fibber McGee and Molly in the new NBC-TV version of radio's old comic strips, created by the Pride & Joy of Peoria, Illinois—Jim and Marion Jordan? Leading all the other contenders are comedian Bob Sweeney and Cathy Lewis, both younger than the Jordans.

The Emmy Award list keeps getting bigger every year. This year they've added a new category: Best Western. And this is writer Malvin Wald's wry comment: "It's discrimination, that's what it is! How about a Best Northern, Best Southern or Best Eastern. And as long as they're expanding the categories, why leave out the heroes' horses? Where would the Westerns be without those trusty steeds?"

Jack Paar's producer, Bob Anderson, phoned Mickey Cohen and invited the reformed mobster (okay, so he SAYS he's reformed) to guest on Jack's show. "Don't forget, Mickey, we can't pay anything higher than the regular scale pay!"

JACK BENNY has done 10 fiddling benefits in the past few years for a grand total of $1,800,000. But not a dime went into Jack's basement vault—it's all for Sweet Charity.

Donald O'Connor's reason for not doing a TV series: "Why can't the networks realize that dancers and comedians destroy themselves by appearing on a show more than once a month?"

Lee Bowman decided CRIME DOES pay, and that's why he's switching from flying in United Artists-TV's new International Airport series to sleuthing in the same company's private-eye project, Miami Undercover.

COLUMBIA RECORDS roped Alice Faye to record an album of pops, all a result of her WOWsome appearance on that 1958

Harris spec. But her ever-lovin' Phil remains under contract to RCA-Victor.

Commissary chatter at Television City: "My wife is very punctual—she buys everything on time!"

Ann Southern's daughter Tish signed in with a Beverly Hills model agency. Specialty: Posing in teenage dresses.

Tempest Storm, the busty stripteaser, had to bow out of a quest on Oscar Levant's local show at the last minute. Chest cold.

ADD CRIME to the networks' prime time: Steve McNally signed for Jerry Devine's new series, Criminal At Large... And still another, this one untitled, starring Dean Jagger and produced by Sam Gallu... Gallu, incidentally, has also signed Dick Webb, once TV's Captain Midnight, for another called U.S. Border Patrol—in which Dick will play a character named Don Jagger! So now Dick, just to compound the confusion, is urging Gallu to pin "Dick Webb" on the character Dean Jagger plays!

Groucho Marx musing on his long-run (nine years!) TV quiz show: "It's frightening how time flies—I've seen all the Pinky Lee jokes disappear and I've seen Judy Splinters grow up to be middle-aged!"

First Jim Garner, then Alice Faye—now Capitol Records has signed Gene (Bat Masterson) Barry to whirl some wax, all a result of Bat's ballad-belted on the Perry Como show.

I MENTIONED in this space recently that fantasy shows are in the ascendancy, probably a result of Shirley Temple's Storybook series. Next up: a series titled The Sword of Sinbad. It'll be produced by Charles Schnee who also produced Columbia's biggest money-making movie of the past year, "The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad."

British producer Michael Carreras visited Hollywood and caught Bob Brubaker playing the part of Clarence Darrow in a little-theater production of "Compulsion" at the Omnibus Theatre. It gave Carreras an idea, and he has signed Brubaker to star in a series based on the late, great Chicago trial attorney's brilliant career.

Bob Hope on the horn: "I see where Metro-TV has signed Bud Pennell for its Johnny Eager series. Eager is right—didn't Bud used to play with the Dodgers when they were eager beavers back in Brooklyn. Before they came out here? And brother, let's hope they show a little more eagerness this year!"

Behind the Berlin Crisis

Deep concern is reflected in the United States over developments on Berlin now just over the half way mark of Premier Khrushchev's ultimatum due to expire on May 27. Some members of Congress are alerting the Nation to the possibility of war. The President is standing firm on his announced statement that "we are not going to give one single inch in the preservation of our rights in regard to Berlin."

Premier Khrushchev says, "The Soviet Union will regard any violation of the borders of East Germany an act of war." Meaning that, if the West tries to force entry into Berlin, before or after the May 27 deadline, Russia will consider it an act of war. These uncompromising positions certainly suggest an impending crisis... but in our opinion not war.

OUR REASONS that war is not likely are: Russia is not prepared for war... the Russian Army knows it cannot defeat the U. S. and its Allies... the Communist Party is afraid of the leadership of the Russian Army which hates the Party Commissars... Russia cannot depend on its satellites... she lacks food and logistical support to sustain a military showdown against the powerful West... and Russia, by any stretch of the imagination, is in no position to challenge the industrial power of the West and the overall nuclear power at its disposal.

The U. S. alone has at least a 6:1 superiority in nuclear weapons and atom bombs over Russia at the present time.

AS ANNOUNCED, the Khrushchev ultimatum warns that unless the West agrees to neutralization of Berlin by May 27, Russia will turn over the military supervision of the West Germany-Berlin corridor to the East German government. By an old agreement the West (U. S., Britain, France) and the Soviet Union have joint supervision over military traffic... while West and East Germany, by more recent agreement, handle the civilian traffic without involving the big powers. Two important factors are behind the Khrushchev ultimatum: (1) West Germany is feared by Russia... and (2) West Germany has become a show window of success over the state-controlled Communist economy of East Germany and a constant threat to Russian prestige all over the world. Also, time is against Russia as the gap widens between the two Germans, and with the aid of the West and natural German initiative, West Germany is forging ahead to unprecedented economic and industrial records. A strong, rearmend West Germany is a Russian nightmare.

IN VIEW OF THESE circumstances the Kremlin had to move to prevent a collapse of East Germany... a deterioration of the Satellite empire... and worse, trouble at home with a further reduction of civilian goods which any crisis among the satellites would bring.

Also, the rate of escapes from the Communist controlled areas to the West has been most alarming in recent months, especially because the defections have now included more and more professional men and women, scientists, scholars, writers, partly as a result of the Boris Pasternak incident. Under these alarming developments something had to be done and the Kremlin decided to gamble with a showdown... bluff or otherwise... to get the best deal possible on the whole German question, rather than mark time and lose all by default.

BERLIN TO THE Soviet Union, as well as to the West, represents a political, military and psychological pivot around which all Europe revolves. To the Russians control of Berlin is like life insurance to control of East Germany and the satellites.

Berlin to every German, living in West or East Germany, is a symbol of nationalism, pride, practice, and the control by East or West provides extraordinary advantages. Both Russia and the West know this. A rearmend, reunited Germany, rallying around its old capital of Berlin, would be on the march to challenge anybody in its path in a few short years again, just as it did in 1939. If the West wins, Germany's principal path will be toward Russia.

Another factor which probably influenced Khrushchev to act was the recent improved relations between West and East Germany since the border agreement on West German civilian traffic moving into Berlin was consummated. Such favorable agreements between Germans could lead into other agreements unfavorable to Russia in time.

NO ONE CAN say for sure that Khrushchev is bluffing. He has bluffing often before. He bluffing when he threatened war if the U. S. landed troops in Beirut last year. He did it again when the British and French bombed the Suez Canal and Israel invaded Gaza. He bluffing again when he conveyed Chiang Kai-shek's supplies to embattled Quemoy.

In each instance Khrushchev threatened war and in each instance he backed down. If Soviet strategy was leading to war, the place to have started it certainly was in the Formosa Strait where our supply lines were most difficult where our Allies refused to join in the defense of Formosa and where Chinese lives could have been expended in behalf of Russia, just like in Korea.

For Khrushchev to start war in the Berlin area, where all NATO forces would be met head on, where all of our Allies are committed, where our supply lines and bases are surrounding the Soviet satellite empire, where the overwhelming majority of the people have been marking time for years for just the opportunity to be armed. As one of them said to us in Poland on our last trip, "If the Russian Communists ever give us arms to fight anybody, you will see the greatest massacre in our time, the massacre of Communist Russians."

Something's Got to Give

WASHINGTON, D. C. — When an irresistible force meets an immovable object, it is difficult to predict the outcome whether in the realm of physics or politics.

Politically, we are going to have this weird rendezvous next year at the Democratic National Convention if Senator Lyndon Johnson makes any sort of drive for the presidential nomination. For as soon as the tall Texan's irresistibility begins to roll, it is going to bump into a set of immovable factors which concern the fundamental structure of the Democratic party of today.

THESE FACTORS are the subject of a remarkable survey by Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois. Nobody speaks with more authority or, for that matter, speaks with more native eloquence, in matters that pertain to the Liberal wing than does Mr. Douglas, an impressive and learned man in chosen fields.

The Illinois Senator, in supporting an attack by Senator Proxmire upon Majority leadership in the Senate is a very different thing than the Democratic party in the nation. It is the national party, of course, which will meet in Convention in Los Angeles to choose national candidates. Here are three points which Senator Douglas made:

1. THE DEMOCRATIC Policy Committee in the Senate, appointed by the Majority Leader, does not follow the election returns. There are nine members from eight States on the Policy Committee. Four are from the Southern States, three are from the Mountain and Desert States, and one is from the Border State of Missouri. The population of these States comes to 22.5 million; they cast only 6.7 million votes in the presidential election of 1956, and this came to a mere 80 electoral votes.

The Policy Committee has no representation from those highly-industrialized, heavily-populated areas that the huge Democratic majorities have built up in the Senate, House and State governorships. The States which are unrepresented on the Policy Committee hold the enormous population of 68 million, cast 35.1 million votes in 1956 and the sum of 255 electoral votes.

2. THE DEMOCRATIC Steering Committee of the Senate is not aligned with national trends. While the Policy Committee exercises power by directing the traffic of bills into the Senate for debate, the Steering group exerts it by manning the Standing Committees with members and, to some degree, with chairmen.

The Steering Committee has 13 members—six from the South, two from the Mountain States, four from small States with little population and one from Minnesota. Again, there is a paucity of representation from the big States.

Unrepresented are States which recently have left the Republican ranks to elect Democratic Senators and Governors—Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Pennsylvania and California.

District Program Continues

Board of Education members this week accepted the resignation of Lee Ewalt, consultant for the school district's new more capable learners program.

Schools Supt. Dwight Twist said Miss Ewalt's resignation was submitted to the board in the form of a letter which listed no reasons for the action.

BOARD MEMBERS accepted the resignation but noted that the action "does not mean the end of the more capable learners program," Dr. Twist reported.

Miss Ewalt arrived here last September to inaugurate and serve as consultant for a new school program designed to create an advanced course of study for students with above-average scholastic abilities.

DR. TWIST SAID, however, that "several parents and others" have asked Miss Ewalt "to reconsider her resignation."

The school superintendent also pointed out that "we do not want anyone to think this means the end of the program."

He said that the district plans to go ahead with the program and will continue to extend it through the district.

Realtors, Motel Operators Urged To Use CofC

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Realtors and motel operators here have been urged to "make great use" of the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce facilities in the conduct of their business.

Marge Jacobs, secretary of the civic organization said that the Chamber continually receives calls from persons seeking inquiries on both businesses. She said that sometimes four or five requests for purchase or sales directions are received by the Chamber each week. Motel inquiries are also counted, she added.

She also advised the two professions — as well as all Desert Hot Springs organizations—to appraise the Chamber of their activities so that the bulletin board might carry them.

Longden Yields to The Years

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UP) — The galloping grandpappy is running a photo finish with father time today.
Johnny Longden, at 49 the winningest jockey of them all, says he's going to hang up his tack some July. It's startling news in the turf world from the man who said he would ride as long as he could do justice to his mounts.
The inference, of course, is that the rigors of riding finally have become too tough.
One thing sure, it was a long time coming. Thirty-two years of riding have gone into the record books since the wizened little man with the squeaky voice rode the first of the 5,250 winners he had earlier this year. That's a long time in a field where youthful muscles, vigor and reflexes are regarded as the most necessary adjuncts to success.

HOW LONG IS it really? You can only appreciate the length of that span when you consider that when Longden rode his first winner a young man named Bobby Jones was three years short of his golfing grand slam. Jack Dempsey was the heavyweight champion of the world, the Ruth Snyder-Judd Gray case was in the headlines, Calvin Coolidge was president and a New York attorney named Franklin D. Roosevelt was being mentioned as a candidate for governor in New York.
Even then Longden had been trying a year to win a race after being advised that he didn't have the stuff of which winning jockeys were made. But the youngster, born in England and reared in Canada, refused to be side-tracked. His first job had been riding a donkey which drew ore wagons from the Calvary mines and Johnny was determined to stay above ground.

HE CAN LOOK with gilt-edged scorn today on those who contend that he always rode as if still perched on a mine rail. For Johnny, known in the trade as "Moneybags," has a mansion complete with swimming pool in Arcadia, Calif., a ranch in California and another in Nevada and lucrative oil and other holdings.

Anthony Dazed Victor Over Ray

NEW YORK — (UP) — It's a good thing for lightweight Tony Anthony that he didn't "hear the bell" any earlier than he did.
Anthony won the unanimous 10-round decision over Sonny Ray of Chicago in Friday night's nationally televised and broadcast fight at Madison Square Garden all right, but he was reeling at the finish.
A terrific fight by Ray caught Anthony on the head with slightly more than a minute left in the bout and staggered him against the ropes. Anthony pulled himself together momentarily and fought back, but seconds before the bell, Ray landed another hard right-left combination which sent Tony reeling.
Then he dropped his hands and turned his back on Ray. Before the 23-year-old Chicago fighter could take advantage of Anthony's condition, the final buzzer sounded.
In his dressing room after the fight, Anthony said he had gone back to the "ropes to gather myself together" for the final seconds. When asked why he dropped his hands, he replied: "I thought I heard the bell."

Southland Starts Drive to Bring Majors to West

LONG BEACH — (UP) — The always active Southern California chambers of commerce were called on today to unite and fight for the transfer of major league spring training activities from rain-soaked Florida.
While there was no indication the Californians would go so far as to join with Arizona in an all-Western movement, it was apparent the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and others were playing for keeps to get the Los Angeles Dodgers and others to give up on Florida.
Long Beach wants eight key Southern California area chambers of commerce to meet Monday to consider the 12 clubs still training in Florida to transfer here next year. Long Beach invited the Dodgers to come west immediately.

Bears Gain Finals in NCAA Cage Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP) — It will be Jerry West against the defense that stopped Oscar Robertson when West Virginia faces California tonight in a battle for the NCAA basketball tournament championship.

The 39 points West racked up to lead West Virginia to a 97-79 victory over Louisville in Friday night's eastern final won't overawe a rock-solid California crew that held Robertson to five field goals and 19 points for a 64-58 victory over Cincinnati in the western finals.

IF ROBERTSON'S showing was a disappointment to the 18,619 fans who jammed Freedom Hall for the NCAA semi-finals, West's performance was a revelation as he poured cold water on Louisville's dreams.
The kid from Cabin Creek did more than shoot, although he did that exceeding well, hitting 12 of 21 shots from the floor. He also pulled in 15 rebounds, outbarring a lanky Louisville front line that had outrebounded Michigan State and Kentucky in regional play.

California, first Pacific Coast Conference team to reach the NCAA finals since Stanford won the crown in 1942, beat Cincinnati on defensive strategy, never giving the Bearcats a chance to set up Robertson for effective shots.
OSCAR, WHO LED the nation in scoring with a 32.9 per game average this season, could manage only 16 shots from the floor as the Bears kept at least one man and usually two between him and the ball. Senior forward Bob Dailon carried most of the burden on this maneuver. With a lot of help from six - 10 center Darrall Imhoff.
The key moment in the California victory came with the score tied at 54-54 after the Bears had held Cincinnati without a field goal for the first nine minutes of the second half to make up a 33-29 halftime deficit.
California went into a slow-moving weave and waited for more than a minute to work the ball into Imhoff. He spun in one of his southpaw hooks to put the Bears ahead with two minutes left and Cincinnati couldn't catch up.

HILL SCORED a triple for the Bears, winning the high and low hurdles and the pole vault.
They took a pair of firsts in the Cee meet.

Kiwanis Club To Hear 'Save Your Vision' Talk

Dr. George M. Milkie, veteran Palm Springs optometrist, will be guest speaker at a Kiwanis Club program commemorating "Save Your Vision Week" next Tuesday.

Dr. Milkie's talk, entitled "He Never Saw What Hit Him," will follow the club's regular luncheon meeting, scheduled for 12:30 p.m. at the Chi Chi.

A Palm Springs resident since 1936, Dr. Milkie has long been active in vision and safety organizations and has linked driver vision with motorist safety.

Luncheon Raises Money for Israel

Bringing a moving word picture of the plight of Middle East immigrants to Israeli, Jeanne Damon, Belgian underground heroine who did so much for persecuted Jewish friends during the war and who has recently returned from visiting Israeli, brought forth an avalanche of money and pledges, when she addressed a benefit UJA luncheon at Chi Chi on Thursday. Around 150 women were in attendance.

First impressing the urgent need, Mrs. Damon gave a vivid description of how 100,000 immigrants exist in a shantytown without even the comforts of warm beds. These people, she pointed out are there to escape the worse inequities of life under communist rule, and they are not the responsibility of the Israeli people alone, but of all Jews everywhere.

Israeli people, she said, have been building a nation out of the desert sand. She termed this an exciting experience and a noble accomplishment, but said that they still have a lot to do and are slowed down as they have no choice but to devote fifty per cent of their revenue to armament, and that their immigrants are almost wholly people who have nothing. Citing the present expulsion of Jewish people from Rumania, she said it is costing them everything they own just to get out of the country and that they come empty-handed, to a place where there is no work for them, because there is not money for the badly-needed construction.

It is a country, she added, where the average salary for the workers is only $100 to $125 a month, with living costs in many instances, as high as in this country, and a high income tax, and yet they have just approved a special tax of 11 million pounds to finance Rumanian immigration.

In appealing for assistance for these people, she said "They are building strength and dignity for your children."

In response to the appeal, many women doubled their gifts of previous years; some gave money they had planned to use for entertaining; and one gave in celebration of 48 years in the United States.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Marty Cohn, who was co-chairman with Mrs. Abe Schwartz, for the complimentary luncheon.

Other women who were active in arranging the luncheon, which is a kick off for the United Jewish Appeal were: Mrs. Max Grone, honorary chairman; Mrs. Henry Shellow, publicity, and committee members Mmes Jack Auerbach, Isidor Becker, Etta Bonoff, Fay Brezin, John Chernus, Joseph Fahn, Lou Dubin, Eva Fowler, Miss Elizabeth Fox, Mmes, William H. Friedman, Barney Ginsberg, Nellie Goldring, Abe Heller, David Lager, Emil Laufer, Betty Levine, Rose Levinson, Delphine Litnick, Kate Neischuler, Maury Pavy, Harry Pitts, Zachary Pitts, Leib Rosin, Morris Smill, Dorothy Slatin, Bea Sternberg and Mel Wasserman.

Celebrate Christmas in March

"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" plus "Jingle Bells" may sound a bit startling for the middle of March, but it happened at The Howard Manor Wednesday night when Murray Arnold and his orchestra serenaded the Waltham Clarkes and their guests.

Only Waltham and his vivacious wife would think of having a Christmas party in March, but that is just what they did. It was the annual Christmas party which the Clarkes give for their employees. The delay? It all came about due to a combination of the Christmas rush and the arrival of the Clarkes' new heir.

The group arrived at the Howard Manor by bus, having been surprised with that mode of transportation at a Christmas cocktail party, complete with tree and gifts, which the Clarkes hosted early in the evening at their home.

Following the cocktail party the group journeyed to the Chi Chi for dinner and the Mae West show, followed by the evening of dancing at The Howard Manor.

Guests included: Their friends from Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Royer, plus their employees escorted by wives husbands or boy friends, depending on their status. Hosts al Fresco Dinner

The softly lighted olive court of the Howard Manor, centered with the pale azure lights of the swimming pool, presents a picturesque setting for dinner or cocktail parties in the Manor Room's outdoor poolside annex.

It was the setting chosen by Julian Livingston when he entertained Wednesday evening for a group of his friends. Honored by the occasion were Mrs. Sol Lesser and her guests, Mrs. Myrtle Selsensky and Mrs. Helen Kaster, both of San Francisco.

Enjoying the picturesque setting which is enhanced by the dark backdrop of towering Mt. San Jacinto and the Colonial white of Howard Manor, plus the danceable musical background furnished by Murray Arnold and his orchestra and Pepe Callahan and his Latin American group, were Seattle's Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newman, Dr. and Mrs. Jay Mall who are here from Estes Park, Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Asher Levy, Mrs. Sidney Schiff, Mrs. Nathan Ohrbach, Chicago's Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kohl, Mrs. Lee Frank, Mrs. Katherine Evans and noted motion picture director Bruce Humberstone.

Stevens Star of New Play

"Glamour" and "Sophistication" best describe the next Palm Springs Playhouse production "Kind Sir," opening at the Theatre in the Round, Tuesday night, March 24.

This modern-day play, also a hit as the movie "Indiscreet," opened on Broadway in 1954 starring Mary Martin in her first straight non-singing role, and with Charles Boyer as the "Kind Sir." The play covers a period of six months in the lives of a glamorous stage actress and a retired San Francisco banker, who is up for appointment to a U.N. post. Time enough to fall in love, and time enough for the beautiful actress to outwit the freedom-loving bachelor, and beat him at his own game of hearts.

Miss K. T. Stevens stars in the Palm Springs Playhouse presentation, and is herself a glamorous actress on both stage and TV. She began her career playing the young ingenue in "You Can't Take It With You," "Eileen," in the Chicago production of "My Sister Eileen," and appeared in "Laura" in New York. K.T. played for 22 months in "Voice of the Turtle," 16 of these in Chicago, the rest on the Coast, and during this time she fell in love with, and married, her leading man, Hugh Marlow.

"Kind Sir," also stars John Holland, who has had a variety of fine parts in many movies, and TV shows. His stage experience includes the lead in "The Reluctant Debutante" in New York, and he appeared there with Mary Martin in "Peter Pan." He played the Captain in "The Caine Mutiny Court Marshall," with the road company.

Two others in the cast, Marrian Walters and Michael Ferrall need no introduction to Palm Springs Playhouse patrons, as they are the husband and wife team of co-producer-director. However, they both have a fine acting background as well. Miss Walters has made featured appearances on Broadway in "Made in Heaven," and "The Tender Trap," and Mr. Ferrall has appeared with Peggy King in "Champagne Complex," with Julie Mead in "Dream Girl," was seen in "A View from the Bridge," and this past summer directed Sammy Davis, Jr., in "The Desperate Hours," in Hollywood.

"Kind Sir," will continue at the Palm Springs Playhouse through Sunday night, March 30. Reservations obtained by calling FAirview 5-6188. Tickets available at the box office. Curtain time 8:30.

Put a little lemon juice in mashed potatoes to keep them really white.

K. T. STEVENS will play the leading role in next week's Playhouse production, opening Tuesday night.

Panhellenic to Give Annual Senior Girls Tea on March 28

The Las Palmas home of Mrs. Florence Larned, with its spacious grounds and attractive pool areas, will be the setting for the annual Senior Girls Tea given by the Coachella Valley Panhellenic on Saturday, March 28, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Honor guests at the tea will be girls planning to attend college in the fall, following their approaching graduation from desert area high schools. Invitations have been sent to senior girls now completing the college preparatory course at Coachella Valley High School, Indio High School, Palm Springs High School, and Palm Valley School. Sharing honors will be the mothers of the girls.

The purpose of the tea is to give the prospective freshmen some glimpses of the many-faceted college life ahead. College girls home for vacation will be at the tea to share their experiences as incoming freshmen last fall. An upper-class girl will also be present to give her viewpoint, and to take part in the informal question-and-answer session.

General chairman of the affair is Mrs. Robert Schlesinger. Helping with arrangements are Misses Chauncey Needham, Robert Backstrom, John Blatt, Frank Ewing, Gerald Fostvedt, Florence Larned, George Ripley, John Bernet, and James O'Reilly.

Coachella Valley Panhellenic has a membership of 120, who reside or winter in the desert area from Indio to Palm Springs. All are members of national social societies approved by the national Panhellenic. Twenty sororities and more than 40 colleges and universities are represented in the group. While the monthly luncheon meetings held at the various clubs to which members belong, and at hotel and resorts throughout the valley, are primarily social, there are two meetings each year with a more serious purpose. One is the tea on the 28th, and the other the Scholarship Tea, held last month for the scholarship fund. This fund is given each year to a promising student from one of the desert high schools.

The regular April luncheon meeting will be at the Ranch Club on Thursday, April 9. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Backstrom and Mrs. John Bernet.

Daughter's Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pietner of 368 Farrell Drive, are announcing the engagement of their daughter Nancy Ann Nenchek and Jerry Fritzal, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fritzal of East Ramon Road. The bride-to-be, who attended Palm Valley School for her sophomore and junior years, will graduate from Palm Springs High School this June. Her fiancé, who attended Palm Springs schools, is in service with the United States Marine Corps and stationed at Twenty Nine Palms.

The wedding date has not been set, but will probably be next fall after his discharge from the Marine Corps.

High Sheriff Bob Six and his Six Shooters took over this weekend . . . and it makes you realize it is almost Desert Circus time again . . . Easter too is at hand . . .

so it couldn't be a better time to get out your Palm Springs hat . . . or buy one . . . or make one . . . and wear it for the next couple of weeks . . . Enough of the bright-colored bonnets along Palm Canyon Drive and it will look like the Village is in bloom . . . Let's match the March mood . . . for the orchid trees are in full blossom . . . the oleanders are starting to bloom . . . and the fragrance of orange blossoms hang sweet on the air . . . It's springtime . . . and Easter . . . and Desert Circus time . . . So . . . let your hat go to your head!

Last night . . . Desert Circus Queen (I mean chairman) June Clark and her husband J. Ross . . . entertained at their Thunderbird home . . . honoring Sheriff Bob Six and his assistant Mark Kramer of Denver . . .

Today noon the Sheriff and the deputies . . . headed this year by Mary Jane Hicks . . . held their annual luncheon at the Racquet Club . . .

Colorado dignitaries are getting ready for the big Palm Springs trek . . . and Old San Jac will be doffing his hat in a 1939 salute to Pike's Peak . . .

Some Saturdays are busier than others . . . and this is one of them . . . For this is the afternoon the Schumanns are breeding ground for that spectacular sun palace (it's to be built with the wings raved out from the center) the handsome new Palm Springs Riviera hotel . . . that will change the destiny of another plot of desert sand . . . and add to the imposing buildings along Indian Avenue . . .

Today is Jessie Baumgardner's birthday . . . and she's entertaining tonight at her Lilliana Drive home . . . and showing off the changes she's been making in what was already a charming house . . . She has enclosed the patio and pool . . . I think . . .

Then, of course, everyone who can squeeze into that enormous high school quadrangle will be heading for the police show with its top-names-in-show-business cast . . . and wishing there were some way to drop in by helicopter or parachute . . . and avoid that tangle of traffic . . .

This is the time of year . . . with its balmy moonlight nights . . . that the fun parties come along . . . and Bob Taliaferro (who has a genius for this kind of thing) hosted one Thursday night . . .

The manager of the Desert Inn . . . Bob has occupied the famous Honeymoon Cottage on the mountainside back of the Inn . . . and this Cottage with its view of Palm Springs . . . and the ramada above it . . . made a perfect setting for an al fresco party . . .

The winding trail that leads up the mountainside to the Cottage . . . was outlined by lights . . . and the thoughtful host had placed chairs at the turns . . . so the winded guests could get their breath . . .

The ramada . . . with its thatched roof . . . offers a spectacular view of the lighted Village . . . a view that grows brighter each year . . . Guests gathered here for cocktails and hors d'oeuvres . . . before trekking back down to Honeymoon Cottage . . . where tables were set up on the porch with a buffet supper on the table in the long livingroom . . . Ginny Summs . . . just back from Las Vegas and a triumphant engagement in the Sahara Lounge . . . arrived with Jan King . . . and Orph Frank . . . still limping along on her broken foot . . . was carried up the hill by two stalwart young men . . . with Lloyd hiking behind them . . .

Win Becker went to Dorothy Gray Brown's gourmet dinner one night too soon . . . and came on to Bob's party . . . but not in quite as casual attire as most of the guests . . . Millie Bollman was introducing her handsome son Don . . . and Madelyn Flo Rito wearing one of those divine imported silk blouse with white slacks . . . arrived with her sister Mildred Rio . . . Winsome Courtney (she's getting a nice tan from those early morning horseback rides on the desert) was there in western clothes and white boots . . . Mary Dayton and untanned Lloyd Pantages (what's the next shade of tan . . . after mahogany?) . . . Florence and Harold Murphy . . . Joan Berings, Edna Rothbart, Manuel Alvarez . . . Betty Jarwood, Lorena and Walt Bratney, Ray Thackwood, Marj Pohl, the Bill Iversons . . . Magda and Tony Gallucci, Jolie Gabor and Edmund De Szegitzi and Jolie's granddaughter Francesca Hilton . . . were in the party that had an enchanted evening on the mountainside above Palm Springs . . .

The Thunderbird home of Buddy and Jack Bligh will be turned into an art salon on the evening of Friday, March 27 . . . when the students of O.E.L. Graves hold a first exhibit of their paintings . . .

Around 40 students have been attending the painting classes . . . held three days a week in the Graves' home on Sunrise Way . . .

"Inn of the Sixth Happiness" will theme the Desert Circus float entry of Palm Springs Community Church Play School . . . with the tiny play Schoolchildren in Chinese costume . . . The float is being sponsored by the parents . . .

Mabelle Ostberg . . . Play School director . . . needed the music from the film and wasn't able to get it here . . . so she wrote to Buddy Adler . . . who sent the sheet music the next day . . . and promised to be in Palm Springs to watch the float in the parade . . .

Camp Fire Girl Founder Dies

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Mrs. Grace Gallatin Seton, 83, author, explorer and founder of the Camp Fire Girls, died at her home here Thursday of a heart attack.

A native of Sacramento, California, she married the late Ernest Thompson Seton, an authority on Indian lore and wild life in 1896. With her husband she explored remote areas of China, India, Africa and South America and wrote many articles about her travels. In 1910 she and Seton founded the Camp Fire Girls.

If boiled eggs get mixed with raw ones, you can separate them by spinning them. Raw eggs will not spin, but cooked ones will swirl like a top.

Ruth Barnes to Mark 30 Years With Bank of America

Mrs. Ruth Barnes, pro-assistant cashier and lending officer at Bank of America's Palm Springs branch, will celebrate her 30th anniversary with the bank Thursday.

Mrs. Barnes came to Palm Springs from a Los Angeles headquarters post in 1954 and has been active in both business and community affairs here. She is president of the Banning - Beaumont Emblem Club No. 300 and prior to that she was active in Legal Secretaries Club. She lives at 737 East Wilson Street, Banning.

"IT DOESN'T TAKE one long to fall in love with the desert," she said this week. "I still miss my associates in the city, but I've really got sand in my shoes now, and never expect to go back to city life."

Her career with the bank began in 1929 when she started as a comptometer operator and typist at Broadway-Seventh office in Los Angeles. In 1942, when the war brought a shortage of men in banks, she became one of the first women to step into a teller's position at Los Angeles Main Office.

SHE HAD ADVANCED to the position of assistant secretary in Timeplan Loan Administration at Los Angeles Headquarters when the time she was offered the Palm Springs post and came here in 1954.

She is a graduate of Beutell Business College, Portland, Ore.

Test Pilot

TOPEKA, Kansas (UPI)—A sixth-grade class at McCarter Grade School in Topeka was discussing the problem of sending a man into outer space when the question arose of how long a man could stay alone in a small place and be comfortable.

One of the pupils, Merle Armstrong Jr., decided to find the answer for himself. He locked himself up in his bedroom closet for 12 hours. He emerged a little dizzy but otherwise okay.

Cities Cut Sales Tax 'Gift'

End of Program Predicted

At the risk of the collapse of the county-wide Bradley-Burns Sales tax program, the League of Riverside County Cities voted 10 to 1 to cut the contribution to the county in half.

Palm Springs cast the single "no" vote.

AFTER THE FINAL vote, league president James Simpson, mayor of Hemet, predicted that the county Board of Supervisors would not accept the "mandate" from the league and the Bradley-Burns program in Riverside County would collapse on June 30.

But the chairman added that it is likely that the state administered program would resume after not too long a period because the supervisors "will find they can't get along without it."

THE FINISH OF the Bradley-Burns program in Riverside County would result in nearly a $1,000,000 loss in revenue to the county for the fiscal year of 1959-60.

Representing the City of Palm Springs at the league meeting were councilman Leonard Wolf and acting city manager Shelby Langford.

WOLF, WHEN casting the "no" vote explained that he doubted whether Palm Springs will be willing to continue contributing five per cent of its sales tax to the county.

Langford added that the other cities of the county would be reducing their contribution to the county by five per cent, and Palm Springs would be increasing its contribution by five per cent.

Palm Springs this year saved the sales tax program in the county by contributing five per cent to the county, which means the city has to dig into its pocket for approximately $17,500, which also means about three cents on the tax rate.

attorney and land developer south of the border, and D. D. Watson, one of the Salton Sea development team. Gaither was house guest of Ray during his Village stay.

Mexican Attorney Confers With Local Developers

A prominent Mexico City attorney has returned to Mexico after a trip to Palm Springs that sought to interest local developers in a project south of the border.

Roscoe B. Gaither, who is regarded throughout the western hemisphere as an authority on Mexican law, left by plane for his home after staying with Terry Ray, desert area developer.

GAITHER SOUGHT out Ray's advice and assistance in producing a Mexico development similar to the ones that Ray has evolved here.

Ray, however, indicated that he intends to stay in the desert area, that his present and future plans include other developments here and that he could not leave "the interests and properties" he has here.

ON HAND FOR some of the discussions with Ray was D. D. Watson, former California Real Estate Commission member and now a co-developer of the Salton Sea project.

Gaither was conducted on a tour of the Village and the Valley by
